Dear Mr. Nelson,

I've been meaning to write this letter for several months and hope it finds you and your family well. I wanted to formally thank you for introducing me to the Shaklee Vitalizer pack.

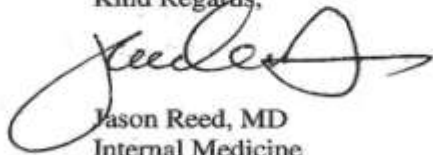

In the medical profession, high stress is a given; stress/time management skills are crucial. My practice also presents frequent limitations on routine exercise, proper diet, and efficient sleep. "Do as I say, not as I do" is the old familiar quote.

After only two days of taking the Vitalizer pack daily, I began to notice remarkable differences. It was only then that I paid any attention to the product flyer: as I read the claims of improved energy, libido, well-being, focus, sleep, etc, I had felt the pamphlet may well have been printed just for me. Even my irritable bowel symptoms have disappeared (it's been years!). I was no less than astounded.

The medical literature supports that, in today's "rat race" society, a daily vitamin/mineral supplement is beneficial for those that cannot maintain a healthy and balanced diet/lifestyle. My patient's then also ask "which brand should I take?" I have no hesitation in recommending Shaklee's Vitalizer product. I actually sense that Shaklee is truly a company by the people and for the people. I wish I could say the same for the other things I prescribe...

Again, I thank you. Please feel free to use this letter to help or guide others in similar situations to mine.

Kind Regards,

Jason Reed, MD
